Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : CHIEF, SERVICES BRANCH
FROM : ACTING CHIEF, SUPPLY DIVISION
SUBJECT: Outstanding Requisitions

DATE: 13 February 1948

Further reference is made to your memorandum dated January 7, 1948 regarding outstanding requisitions being held by the various sections of this Division, dated prior to January 1, 1948.

As additional investigation has been made to determine the present status of these requisitions and the results are contained in the attached list which had been submitted to you.

Please note that the red line drawn through a large number of the requisitions listed are indicative of the fact that these have been completed since the original list was submitted.

As you had been advised previously, an earnest effort is being made by this office to prevent requisitions from being held unnecessarily for an abnormal period. Stress has been placed on the necessity for the expediency of all requisitions and cooperation from all concerned has been obtained.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

25X1A9a

TO : CHIEF, SERVICES BRANCH

DATE: 26 January 1948

FROM : [REDACTED]

SUBJECT: Requisitions Reported as Being Held by the Supply Division in Monthly Report of December 1947.

In accordance with the request contained in your memorandum dated 7 January 1948, a survey has been made of all requisitions on hand in the various Sections of this Division dated prior to 1 January 1948. As a guide, the Processing Unit prepared complete lists of requisitions charged to the various Sections on which no information was available, according to the former's records. This same method, by numerical count only, is used in my Monthly Status Report and the resultant totals appear under the heading "Requisitions Outstanding, with no action and/or awaiting bids, etc."

This heading is a misnomer and will be discontinued in the future since a true picture of the status of the requisition is not indicated. Two substitute titles, "Requisitions, with no action" and "Requisitions, pending held for bids, clearances, etc.", will be used instead. As you will note on the attached lists which indicate the status of all requisitions, dated prior to 1 January 1948, being held by all Sections of this Division, there are only a few requisitions which have been held without any action being taken whatsoever. These have specific reasons for not being processed and every remaining requisition has had some activity usually within one or two days after assignment, such as solicitation of bids and quotations, clearances and similar action.

In making this survey, a number of outstanding requisitions appearing open on the Processing Unit's books were cleared up or eliminated. Thus the total number of outstanding requisitions furnished to you in my December Monthly Report has been reduced considerably. In the future a periodic check will be made in advance of the monthly report to determine the status of all requisitions more than approximately two weeks old.

In no instance has it been found that requisitions have been shelved purposely, and an honest attempt has been made to obtain requisitioned items as promptly as possible by all employees of this Division.

In reply to your fourth paragraph, referring to the Typewriter Repair Shop, we have investigated and found that December's poor showing was due to the fact that for a number of days, the rooms occupied were being painted or in the preparation thereof, thereby not permitting any major work to be accomplished in the shop. The estimated work thus far this month has increased considerably and an attempt will be made to continue on this basis. There are a number of typewriters held by Storage and Issue Section that require repairs and this is being done so as not to interfere with current priority work.
